

Online textbook troubleshooting help

If you try to log in and the image below appears, click 'Continue to log in now' and it will take you to the textbook for use.

If you zoom in, using the controls at the bottom, sometimes the program will freeze and not allow you to move the page or zoom out. Close the window and reopen it and it should work.

If you come across any other issues that you don't know how to work around, please email me using the address below.
